

WEEKLY CITIZEN.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1886.

U. S. Marshall W. K. Meade has returned from Tombstone.

Mr. Hugh O. Tebb, one of the solid citizens of Globe, is in the city.

It is rumored that the city that Paul Moroney, formerly of Tucson, has made $80,000 by the recent big stock deal.

Mr. Jas. K. Ashburn, of Harshaw, is in the city. He will leave for his home to-morrow.

Sam Drachman's cigars keep pace with the San Francisco stock market, and are in demand and everybody says they are "way up."

Attention is called to the advertisement of Leonard Coates, nurseryman, Napa City, California. Send him for a free catalogue of fruit trees, grape vines, and general nursery.

Mr. J. D. Spencer, the introducing agent of Leonard Coates, tobacco company, of St. Louis, is in the city. He is a genial gentleman and meets with decided success in a business way.

When the people of Tucson visit Phoenix they always call at the Pony saloon, on Washington street, and exchange greetings with its gentlemanly proprietor, Mr. H. M. Smith.

Good place, and none but the best goods are sold.

Truscott & Rale are the parties who purchased the American Bakery, not Mr. Rale as was stated in Thursday's issue. The bakery is now being conducted at the old stand, 207 Congress street, where Sam will be found to cater to the wants of all his old friends and all the new ones who wish to visit him on his old job.

It has been concluded to postpone the Dickens social until one week from to-morrow night, the 21st instant.

Many of the people who are more than ready to be presented and if more rehearsals are held better satisfaction will be given. Some of the "wags" have also been here in time for to-morrow night.

A movement is on foot among the ladies who are now circulating a petition to the city council, asking for a prohibition ordinance against the transaction of business on Sunday. The butcher, the baker, the milkman, the grocer and the others who toil for gain, would sleep very late on Sunday morning if this measure should go into effect.

The formal opening of the St. Louis Exchange on Saturday night was a grand affair, and the bright comet was looking over the northeastern horizon when its doors were closed to arrange for the early regulars. The lunch was magnificent and well enjoyed. Buffed them all and none went away dissatisfied.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the season took place on Saturday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilcox. The party consisted of a large number of the best of the city, and the evening was spent in the most enjoyable manner.

Mr. J. L. Clark has just completed an album of the Santa Catalina, that in size is a duplicate of his former residence. A big ramada has been placed upon the east, south and west sides and now having and comfortable, but the accommodations are now sufficient to accommodate the winter guests. Mr. Clark contemplates the erection of still another addition in anticipation of a lively season next summer. He has also erected a large barn and stables and many other substantial improvements at the Granite Ranch.

Counselor Ferguson has an exalted opinion of the quality of the milk of human kindness that is accumulating under the pails of some of Tucson's people—accumulating because of the fact that they do not know how to use it.

He has been treated like a step son since he was born. We judge by the expression on his face that he is not at all pleased with the situation. "I don't like apples now," what is in it for me? "I don't like apples now," what is in it for me? "I don't like apples now," what is in it for me?

The Rev. David McFarlan arrived on this morning from San Francisco. His instructions are greatly needed by some of our doubting Thomases. Having said a few words to the people, he will leave for his home in the morning.

The Santa Cruz stock growers Association held their regular meeting last Saturday afternoon. There were present Isaac N. Thompson, president; G. H. Beckwith, secretary; Chas. Altshuler, treasurer; James Brown, Mark Eckels, O. W. Atkinson, L. L. Moore, James Owens, John E. Lee, A. Peck and J. L. Martinez. Sabino Ore was duly elected as vice-president of the association. The subject of establishing a meat canning establishment at or near Nogales was discussed. Also the advisability of selling mavericks, at the time they are taken by the rodeo, to the highest bidder, for each, all money to be paid to the association fund. The association then adjourned to meet again on the 21st inst. at 8 o'clock on Monday in February—Nogales, Frontier.

For Christmas.

The old Colony has prepared to make the country side during the holidays a good place for the indispensible for a proper Christmas celebration. His notice elsewhere tells the prices now prevailing and enumerates some of the delicacies as well as the standard necessities of life, besides which he has more and better things that are good for the stomach's sake, and people may be sure that the grandmother, too, has not forgotten her warm dumplings and she has sent him a handsome set of red wagon wheels and will show how to use them. He will bring a brand new lighthouse along and a new supply of poetry on draught. Read his new price list and see how cheap everything is sold, and remember that honest weight and full measure are always given.

Another Unfortunate.

(Tombstone Epitaph.)

An American by the name of Edward Jones was killed during the holiday season at the mine, 5 miles from the 25th day of November last, and the owners of the mine are making diligent inquiries to ascertain the whereabouts of his people.

A letter was found upon the body from his mother and brother, written from Collinsville, or territory not given, from it is difficult to ascertain their identity. The unfortunate man was about 46 years old. Further than this nothing is known about him. He frequently talked of Illinois and the labors about the premises are of the opinion that he was a native of that state. Any information of his mother or his brother will be gratefully received by Mr. S. O. Fredricks, San Augustine mine, Sonora.

Active, Pushing and Reliable.

Geo. Martin can always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and maintain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable by recommending articles with well established names, and such as are popular. Having the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will cure any and every affection of the lungs or chest, and in order to prove our claim, we ask you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

Critenden Crumbs.

CITIZEN, ARIZ. Dec. 12th 1886.

ED. CRITTENDEN—Everything is on the upward move in our vicinity, even the cold which has settled in the hands of our correspondent, which should have settled on A. B. in addition to the billions attack which he is nursing. It is strange how much trouble a Sonora cold can give a person of limited reputation; still, we would accept it gratefully as one of nature's gifts, were it not for the unusual tone of our sweet "Bazon" which makes us feel as though we required an introduction every time we speak. Even a dog which we have tried to not for the last two years have hurt when we accidently have stepped on it is not one of these slight concerns that steal on you in a frolicsome manner with an "Oh, boy, pardon!" expression, but a regular patient lawyer, honesty and reform, kind of a cold that is warranted to keep in any climate.

Severe capitalists have lately struck our camp and we are waiting with breathless anxiety for the result.

One shipments from the "Home Again" cold which is again making its appearance, increasing in fact, the mining interests in this section are very flattering, and a boom in the near future is imminent.

Messrs. Smith and Snyder are kept busy dealing out their wares and—

With pleasant mind, becoming aware, who does not aspire to this title, Judge Vanderlip is in the city.

Mr. Vanderlip is an ornament to the place, and we understand A. Pictorius will soon erect a dwelling house; it is most likely that he will be a resident here, it will be a pity. But what he wants of two parlors we are at loss to tell; will A. B. please investigate and report.

W. H. Barrett & Co. have dissolved partnership, the business to be carried on by Mr. Barrett in the future. His stock is worthable at $200 a yard, and will be sold at ten cents per pound.

Mr. Dill & Hayer have moved into their new place of business since Messrs. executed his artistic skill with a white wash brush.

Many, the veritable brother-in-law, is doing a stage business lately, we infer, from his business in showing up a four bit piece for us to gaze upon. By the way, this business is worth $200 a yard, and will be sold at ten cents per pound.

Our school is flourishing and parents may well be proud of their children. E. J. Fleming, in mathematics, can down many an older head and in perplexity of cubes and roots always comes off victor. The Misses Fern, Watkins and Linder are working hard and making good progress. In our next we will give you the average standing of the pupils in their studies, which we have no doubt will come favorably in its way in the territory.

E. A. Arnold, at stage, just in from Washington Camp, reports everything O. K. to the city. He is a good fellow, sobered up and gone to work again. Arnold's veracity is without question, but he will lose friends by being too honest.

Mr. Farrell, merchant at Harshaw, has an addition to his family. It's a girl.

Mr. Farrell is a man of good family, an honest, upright, has sold an interest in his ranch to Wm. Kane, of Tucson. Consideration, $2500. Now he (Conn.) speaks the English language more than ever.

Judge G. W. Baker, left for Dos Cabezas yesterday morning on mining business.

Will A. B. in his next, please advise us how he succeeded in his collection for Christmas gifts for the children in this district. How a subject like this can be so many minutes, Ded Crittenden do likewise.

He has been treated like a step son since he was born. We judge by the expression on his face that he is not at all pleased with the situation. "I don't like apples now," what is in it for me? "I don't like apples now," what is in it for me? "I don't like apples now," what is in it for me?
